As orthopaedic practice continues to evolve with rapid technological progress and emerging clinical evidence, this conference has been carefully designed to serve as a comprehensive platform for orthopaedic surgeons, sports physicians, general practitioners, trainees, allied health professionals, and industry innovators. Over the course of two days, attendees will gain exposure to cutting-edge developments, evolving surgical techniques, complex case management strategies, and the latest advancements in diagnostics, innovation, and operative technologies.

The 2026 programme features expert-led keynote sessions, structured panel discussions, FRCS-focused teaching, and practical case-based learning across a broad range of subspecialties. Topics will span minimally invasive surgery, trauma and reconstruction, sports orthopaedics, upper and lower limb updates, advancements in biologics and implants, perioperative care, and the integration of new technologies into surgical decision-making.

A dedicated emphasis will also be placed on FRCS preparation, offering trainees valuable insight from experienced consultants on exam strategy, complex cases, and high-yield topics making this meeting an essential educational opportunity for surgeons progressing through their training milestones.

Beyond the scientific agenda, the London Orthopaedic Meeting serves as a premier networking forum, bringing together renowned speakers, healthcare professionals, and industry exhibitors. Attendees are encouraged to engage actively with faculty members, interact with innovation partners, and share experiences with peers to foster meaningful collaboration and exchange of ideas.
